CES 2020 Opportunity

CES 2020 Opportunity

CES is the most important technology event of the year: It's where trends are set, deals are made, and thought-leaders come together to make the future happen.

From previous experience I know the insights, connections and business that results from CES are invaluable, so in 2020 I'm once again offering my CES Opportunity!

As a leading London futurist, speaker and author, I am uniquely qualified to identify game-changers, have conversations that build relationships, and report back in a customised and actionable way.

My CES 2020 Opportunity ensures that your business doesn't miss out and gets the full benefit of CES - but without the high costs and hassle.

Check it out!

Thanks,

Value

Traveling from the UK to CES in the height of winter can be a hassle, costing companies minimum £3,000/per person.

This opportunity offers a viable alternative that saves your company time and money, whilst also fully benefiting from my unique experience, knowledge and skills.

From professional services, risk management and property, to agencies, retailers and start-ups, the insights from CES can change your 2020 outlook.

This is why I'm offering 2 packages, so you can choose which delivers the most value and benefit for your business.
